re: United States v. Anthonio Randall, 24-cr-67 (NSR)

Dear Judge Roman:

This letter is an application to modify the bail conditions for Anthonio Randall to permit him to travel to Connecticut for the purpose of spending time with one of his children there during his curfew hours. This would not involve his staying overnight in Connecticut. The child is in the mother's custody and the Court had previously granted him permission to travel to Connecticut for the limited purpose of picking up and dropping of the child to facilitate his spending time with the child in New York. The modification would allow Mr. Randall to spend time with the child without the need to have both of them travel back and forth, such as attending the child's sports activities in Connecticut. The pretrial services office, by Officer Francesca Piperato, and the government, by A.U.S.A. Margaret Vasu, both consent to this modification.

Mr. Randall has been in compliance with pre-trial services, previously had his home detention replaced by a less restrictive curfew, and remains employed.

Very truly yours,
/s/ Theodore S. Green
